SPORTS OF THE SEASON.

Basebat! Personalities. Hadelphia, 10; Washington, 3, ally, this is getting monotonous

Vestering's game was the worst on ased on the home grounds this season. The errors of the home sine would have dee anateurs have their heads in share. It seems that which it is not one this at defeats us it is another.

Sometimes it is weak batting; at other mes ft is poor fielding. But the greenal impression among the but the greenal impression among the cal patrons of the game is that at all times is men are in need of a guardian. The Carrie has consistently supports a nine throughout the season. It has exceed their errors, pointed out their merits pointed their servers and lightly passes ar their defeats. It will do so no more.

The players here shown that they car offing for the interests of baseball in this ity of for their own reputations. They care only for "a good time." What but prime implies the resider can gues but the properties of the resider can gues the record the men have made.

Thus the record the mon have made. There are faithful and earnest players it the sluth. They have striven hard to win out their efforts have been for unight many a time because some one carouse too much the night before. Intemperance is the ball-players' curse it was hoped that Washington had not been a sufferer from it, but the fact is patent that it has been.

The will has grown to such proportions that it can barily be checked now. After to-day only six more games are scheduled to be played on the home grounds.

If the men will brace up, show a little interest in the welfare of baseball in Washington, abundon disappation and lead the lives of a little is the property of the Washington has ball public. If they prove the bracket is the property in the property is the property in the property in the property in the property is the property in the property in the property in the property is the property in the property is the property in t If they persist in their present cor ill look in vain for engagement will look in value for energements next year.

In the interests of the baseball patrons of the city The Chirus probasts.

Undentably this is a good ball town, but another season of such playing will ruin it. The players have been pall good salaries, they have been treated leniently by Mr. Gailney—too leniently some think—they have been encouraged by the local press as they would not have been in any other city in the League; yet for "a good time" they have seartfleed everything.

The people been want to see good playing they do not want to sue every game a victory, but they want to see men who can play good ball earn their salaries, for after all it is the public that pays them.

An Important Suit-

An Important suit came up before Judg Merrick yesterday, in which the right of th Commissioners to extend the rectangula system of streets into the county north of the city is involved. Horace P. Gray bring action against the District of Columbia. Mr. Nat. Wilson is his attorney, and the suit is brought to quiet title to lot 1, block 26 Meridian Hill, and 7,000 square feet of land adjoining. Mr. Gray represents that when Meridian Hill, and 7,000 square feet of land adjoining. Mr. Gray represents that when Meridian Hill was laid out there was a hill immediately north of Sixteenth street so large that it was apparently a barrier to a further extension of Sixteenth street, but there was a road in a ravine that served for a street, and which was sketched out as Meridian avenue. He alleges, however, that the District authorities have proposed to axiend Sixteenth street, with 100 feet width, through his grounds, and not to pay for Meridian avenue, and no asks an injunction, declaration of the validity of his title, etc.

of diseases, there were none which, previous to the discovery of Hostetter's Stomach Bit ters, offered more formidable resistance to the oid fashioned modes of treatment that the group of maladles which, under the collection of the state o the group of maladies which, under the col-lective name of malarial disease, afflicted entire communities that suffered hopelessly. Chills and fever, dumb ague, ague cake and billious remittent were once regarded as well nigh incurable. Now it rejoices the hearts of thousands who reside in districts period-ically subject to the visitation of malaria, to feel certain that in the Bitters they possess a certain defense against the scource, a sure means of expelling its poison from the sys-tem. To the settler in the far West, the new emigrant thitter, and to travelers and tour-lets by land and sea, the possession of this pleasant eafeguard is a guarantee of actely from diseases which they might vainly seek from any other source.
